Bright Future, Right Future

Women with psychosocial needs and persons with intellectual disabilities are disproportionately affected, struggling to access resources, vocational training, and employment opportunities. At Hope Public Charitable Trust, we address these issues through craft-based livelihood programs that provide skill training, design development, capacity building, and market linkages. Through our initiatives, we aim to preserve India's rich cultural heritage, promote social inclusion, and empower communities to break the cycle of poverty and inequality.

Bright Future, Right Future

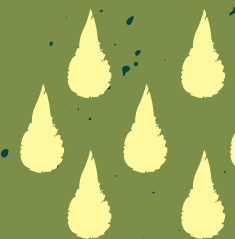

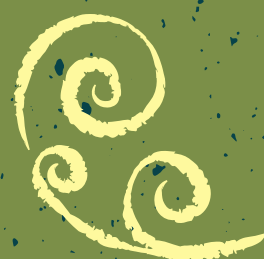

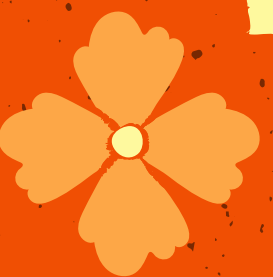

Giving used flowers a new lease of life... Through our Green Skilling Program, we have skilled adults with intellectual disability (ID) & Autism to recycle Temple flowers and convert them into a range of unique products.

Today, this has grown to be India's largest program for vocational training of adults with ID & autism enabling impact at multiple levels:

- income-generating
- environment friendly
